

Harnessing the power of water

Water, water everywhere: fountains in the BurJuman Shopping Centre in Dubai.

MIDDLE Eastern developers are driving the demand for ever more exciting projects — and the water-feature designer Crystal Fountains is experiencing booming demand as a result.

The company arrives at MIPIM on the back of opening new offices in Kuwait and Singapore. “This is an extremely exciting time for us,” said Michael Denman, Crystal Fountains’ director of overseas operations. “Our order books are growing fast. The new offices will provide much needed local support and assistance to our fast expanding international clientele.” In the Middle East, the company’s current projects include multiple water features at BurjDubai, BurJuman Centre and Dubai Marina; the new Messilah Beach Hotel and 360° Mall in Kuwait; and King Abdullah Economic City in Saudi Arabia.
